

EUROPEAN DATA PROTECTION SUPERVISOR

CORRIGENDUM to the EDPS Annual Report 2022

On page 12, last paragraph, second sentence,

for:

‘AFSJ includes EU Agencies, such as Europol - the EU Agency for law enforcement cooperation, Frontex - the EU Border and Coast Guard Agency, EPPO - the European Public Prosecutor’s Office, Eurojust - the EU Agency for Criminal Justice Cooperation.’

read:

‘AFSJ includes EU bodies, offices and agencies, such as Europol - the EU Agency for law enforcement cooperation, Frontex - the EU Border and Coast Guard Agency, EPPO - the European Public Prosecutor’s Office, Eurojust - the EU Agency for Criminal Justice Cooperation.’

On page 48, fifth paragraph, second sentence,

for:

‘The EDPB, of which we are a member, provides us with a platform to strengthen our collaboration with the data protection authorities of the EU in charge of the supervision of Europol, Eurojust and EPPO.’

read:

‘The EDPB, of which we are a member, provides us with a platform to strengthen our collaboration with the data protection authorities of the EU with regard to EDPS supervision of Europol, Eurojust and the EPPO.’

On page 49, first paragraph, first and second sentences,

for:

‘Developing and strengthening cooperation with EU/EEA’s data protection authorities in order to develop joint supervision, both through our participation to the Coordinated Supervision Committee and specific joint supervisory activities together with these authorities. This resulted in particular in the signing of a Working Arrangement with the Portuguese DPA in the context of EPPO.’

read:

‘Developing and strengthening cooperation with EU/EEA’s data protection authorities in order to develop coordinated supervision, both through our participation to the Coordinated Supervision Committee and specific coordinated supervisory activities together with these authorities. This resulted in particular in the signing of a Working Arrangement with the Portuguese DPA.’

On page 92, last paragraph:

for:

‘Joint supervision by the EDPS and the EU Member States’ data protection authorities is key, in particular in the Area of Freedom, Security and Justice, since EUIs process personal data collected at national level, which is then further shared by competent national authorities of the EU Member States, for the performance of their tasks. This currently takes place under the umbrella of the Coordinated Supervision Committee (Europol, Eurojust, EPPO) and the Supervision Coordination Groups.’

read:

‘Coordinated supervision by the EDPS and the EU Member States’ data protection authorities is key, in particular in the Area of Freedom, Security and Justice, since EUIs process personal data collected at national level, which is then further shared by competent national authorities of the EU Member States, for the performance of their tasks. This currently takes place under the umbrella of the Coordinated Supervision Committee and the Supervision Coordination Groups.’

On page 93, paragraphs four and six,

for:

‘To this end, we actively participated in Coordinated Supervision Committee, which organises the joint supervision of Europol - the EU Agency for Law Enforcement Cooperation, Eurojust - the EU Agency for Criminal Justice Cooperation and EPPO - the European Public Prosecutor’s Office.

(...)

This joint supervisory activity, ongoing since 2020, is something we initiated on the basis of our 2018 Europol Annual Inspection. Complementing this initiative, we carried out similar checks regarding the processing of data of minors classed as potential criminals or suspects submitted by non-EU/EEA countries and international organisations, as part of our 2022 Annual Inspection of Europol. We check that Europol is only processing the data of minors who have reached criminal responsibility by sharing and comparing statistics with the responsible authorities of the EU/EEA. This has been effective since we have noticed a drop in numbers over the years.’

read:

‘To this end, we actively participated in Coordinated Supervision Committee, which organises the coordinated supervision of Europol - the EU Agency for Law Enforcement Cooperation, Eurojust - the EU Agency for Criminal Justice Cooperation, and provides a forum for cooperation in the context of EPPO - the European Public Prosecutor’s Office.

(...)

This coordinated supervisory activity, ongoing since 2020, is something we initiated on the basis of our 2018 Europol Annual Inspection. Complementing this initiative, we carried out similar checks regarding the processing of data of minors classed as potential criminals or suspects submitted by non-EU/EEA countries and international organisations, as part of our 2022 Annual Inspection of Europol. We check that Europol is only processing the data of minors who have reached criminal responsibility by sharing and comparing statistics with the responsible authorities of the EU/EEA. This has been effective since we have noticed a drop in numbers over the years.'

In the Executive Summary, on page 12, last paragraph, second sentence,

for:

AFSJ includes EU Agencies, such as Europol - the EU Agency for law enforcement cooperation, Frontex - the EU Border and Coast Guard Agency, EPPO - the European Public Prosecutor's Office, Eurojust - the EU Agency for Criminal Justice Cooperation.

read:

AFSJ includes EU bodies, offices and agencies, such as Europol - the EU Agency for law enforcement cooperation, Frontex - the EU Border and Coast Guard Agency, EPPO - the European Public Prosecutor's Office, Eurojust - the EU Agency for Criminal Justice Cooperation.